Iowa

ry quandary AARP urging voters to be-med about a proposed nal amendment and be e in the Sept. 18 special l If approved, the refould allow the state to 45.8 million annually ears from a state trust ke up a shortfall in l fund, which pays for ams as Medicaid and ithout the stopgap mea-

17 percent budget cuts
: agencies. Proponents endment is needed to ng taxes. Others caution orary fix. ■ AARP is ng lawmakers to seek a solution to the state's es. In the meantime, the has posted pros and the proposed amend-

■ South Carolina

Speak out AARP is urging members to attend upcoming public hearings to speak out against a utility rate hike requested by South Carolina Electric & Gas Co. ■ If the proposal is approved, the average residential customer would pay an additional $80 a year, said Teresa Arnold, AARP state advocacy director. The increase would result in SCE&G utility bills being about 30 percent to 36 percent higher than those of other utilities in the state. ■ "We're not talking about Cadillac electricity here," Arnold said. "Why is SCE&G asking for so much more than what Duke Energy or Progress Energy customers pay?" ■ Public hearings will likely be held in October and November. For updates, visit aarp.org/sc or call 1-866-389-5655 toll-free.

■ Puerto Rico

Safe streets AARP Puerto Rico staff and volunteers are evaluating the conditions of local streets and sidewalks to demand action on the territory's "complete streets" law, which passed in 2010. ■ Such laws are designed to improve access to roadways and sidewalks for all users, including pedestrians, bicyclists, public transit users and people with disabilities, as well as those driving motorcycles and cars. The Puerto Rico law requires government agencies and municipalities to consider such needs when building or upgrading roads. ■ AARP is providing a brochure volunteers can use to conduct "walkability" surveys of their communities to show where action is needed. A survey takes about an hour to complete. To download the brochure, go to aarp.org/pr.

■ Louisiana

Grand opening AARP Louisiana will celebrate the opening of a community office in New Orleans on Sept. 19, during the national AARP Life@50+ member event.
Located at 3502 S. Carrollton Ave. in the Hollygrove neighborhood, the office will be run by AARP staff and volunteers, who can help residents age 50-plus connect with programs and service opportunities in the community. ■ Like AARP Louisiana's main office in Baton Rouge, the Hollygrove office will be a place where members can pick up free information, sign up for an AARP Driver Safety course and learn about other AARP activities and programs such as the Soul Steppers walking clubs. Stop by or call the office at 504-826-1973.

■ Arkansas

Safe at the wheel AARP Arkansas is seeking volunteer instructors for the AARP Driver Safety program, which in November will offer its class free to veterans and their spouses. ■ Drivers age 55-plus who complete the course may be eligible for auto insurance discounts. In Arkansas 34 percent of drivers, or about 712,000 people, make up this age group.
■ The course, open to motorists of all ages, covers defensive driving techniques and offers tips on how to compensate for age-related changes in vision, hearing and reaction time. ■ Call Joe Petruk, program coordinator, at 501-767-4409 to learn about becoming an instructor. To find a class near you, call 1-888-227-7669 toll-free or go to aarp.org/findacourse.
